ROBINS AND YANKEES MAINTAIN POSITIONS

While New York Remains Idle, Cleveland Gains a Few Points; Important Series Opens

New York, Sept. 15.—Three of the six contenders for the pennant in the National and American leagues were idle today because of an open date in their schedules. The New York Americans, although not playing, retained the lead in the American League race, but Cleveland gained a few points by defeating the Athletics. The Chicago White Sox did not play, and thus the victory of the Indians widened a little the gap between second and third places. The Yankees are leading the Indians by three percentage points, or by one game as the teams stand in games won and lost. The Chicago White Sox are 17 points, or two and one-half games, behind the Yankees.

By winning the final game of the series from the Chicago Cubs, the Brooklyn Robins maintained their lead in the National League of five full games over Cincinnati, which won from Philadelphia. The New York Giants did not play and consequently are half a game behind Cincinnati, and five and one-half games in the rear of the league-leading Superbas.

Tomorrow, the first of the all-important series involving the National League pennant, will be opened between Brooklyn and Cincinnati at Brooklyn. While the Robins enjoy a comfortable lead, they still have five games to play with the Giants in addition to the three games with Cincinnati tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

The New York Yankees also will open a series tomorrow at Chicago, which will have an important bearing upon the American League pennant race. It will be necessary for the Yankees to win all three games of the series in order to retain first place unless the Cleveland club drops a game while the Yankees and White Sox are fighting it out.

PUBLIC SUPPORT CONTINUES STRONG

Latest Political Developments Still Shape Course of the Stock Market

New York, Sept. 15.—Latest political developments continued to shape the course of the stock market today, brokers and commission houses reporting a perceptible expansion of public or outside support.

The money market also figured in the fairly broad but irregularly higher trend of quotations. Call money eased to six per cent after opening at the recent fixed rate of seven.

Renewed signs of credit easement were indicated by time funds. "Good" rate loans for six months on all rail collateral were made at eight per cent, although the nominal rate quoted in the open market was nearer nine per cent.

Advances pertaining to the general industrial situation also were of a more hopeful character.

The most favorable feature of the stock market was the sustained demand for rails. Denver and Rio Grand proved an exception, however, the preferred shares breaking severely on unconfirmed reports that the federal court had ordered the sale of the property in connection with Western Pacific railway litigation.

Oils ranked with transportation in activity and strength, and steels, coppers and equipments had their occasional spurts with shippings, tobaccos and miscellaneous specialties. Gains were shaded at the close, however, on the usual profit-taking specialties.

Liberty issues were steadier than at any recent period. "Old U. S. bonds" were unchanged on call.

"CAN'T CUT OFF MY LEG" SAYS RAILROAD ENGINEER

"I am a railroad engineer; about 20 years ago my leg was seriously injured in an accident out West. Upon my refusing to allow the doctor to amputate it I was told it would be impossible to heal the wound. I have tried all kinds of salves and had many doctors in the past 20 years, but to no avail. Finally I resolved to use FLETCHER'S OINTMENT on my leg. You cannot imagine my astonishment when I found it was doing what over 100 things had failed to do. My leg is now completely cured." — Geo. Hault, 200 Myrtle avenue, Brooklyn.

THE FIGHT FOR CONGRESS

The contest for the congressional nomination in this district, it is now evident, has resulted in a plurality of at least two hundred for John D. Clarke, who had practically the entire vote of his home county of Delaware, along with a very substantial plurality in Otsego, Chenango, having a candidate of its own, gave but a limited vote for the two others, and the question really was whether the large vote in Broome would suffice to offset that which Clarke received at home and in adjoining Otsego. That it did not the latest figures show.

However, Mr. Trout, whose friends gave him most loyal support, has reason not to be cast down though defeated. The good run that he made is in itself a source of satisfaction; and it is possible that the result would have been different had it not been for the factional fight which has for many years been waged in Broome county. It was the old story of the house divided against itself, and to this can be added the fact that the fight was triangular instead of a straightforward contest between two opposing forces.

Mr. Clarke, who receives a nomination which in this district practically assures election, will receive general congratulations, and not the least on the splendid showing which his home county made. Few men are more widely known in Delaware than he, and the uniform note of praise which was sounded by residents of that county was not only a flattering and satisfactory testimonial in itself, but also did not a little toward influencing the vote in the three others, and particularly in Otsego. That he is thoroughly competent and well informed, that he has had ample business experience, is a good farmer and a successful attorney is conceded; and there is no doubt that the members of his party, forgetting primary differences and the close contest, will accord him general support.

VARIOUS MATTERS.

Governor Smith, it is announced, will confine the attention of the forthcoming legislative session to one thing—the problem of housing. This will eliminate consideration of such problems as the high cost of gas and electric lights and the advanced charges for telephone service, which to many people are more important even than increased number of houses.

Commissioner Copeland of New York city is turning his energies to the abatement of the noise nuisance. An official must be possessed of unusual optimism who expects to happily mate quiet and progress. The quiet town is a "dead town." Of whom it is said that "he made a desert and he called peace."

Labor troubles are in a very full sense international. A sniper who was killed while shooting at an engineer in northern Italy proves to be a Belgian with a Teutonic name armed with an Austrian revolver.

Now that the "light is on" in New York state, the political fight, it is to be hoped that it may be conducted fairly and with due regard to the amenities of life. Bitter personal attacks quite generally are unfounded and the animus which they display often reacts upon the aggressor.

It does not appear that the voters of either principal party have done themselves proud in Saratoga county by naming again for district attorney a man recently indicted by the extraordinary grand jury which has been investigating gambling at the big summer resort. In view of the nature of the office to which Mr. Andrus is re-nominated, it would not seem the thing for the whole county to give him a clean bill of health before the trial. He was re-nominated after a one-sided contest in the Republican primary, and the Democrats nominated him by writing in his name, which seems to make "honors" case.

The question of the ratification of the suffrage amendment in Tennessee is not so simple as it has been in some instances pronounced. Secretary Cady has been charged with saying that a state has acted on the amendment it cannot change its mind, since otherwise there might be continued reversal on the part of the states and nobody would know where as a citizen she was at. But, on the other hand, it is claimed by the actors from Tennessee that West Virginia was allowed to reverse itself not once merely, but twice. If it was right for West Virginia to reconsider and favor adoption, so they say, it is all right for Tennessee to reconsider and favor rejection. It seems to be a case where common sense and precedent are at variance, and probably the courts must decide.

Many Democratic politicians and newspapers, among the former Secretary Daniels, have sought to minimize the significance of the Maine election so far as national politics are concerned. Not so the New York World, which fairly admits the situation and

THE RESULTS IN DELAWARE

Clarke Has Plurality of 3543 in Home County—Large Vote for Mrs. Boole in Senatorial Contest—Shaw for County Treasurer—Large Vote Rural County Indicating Interest in Clarke.

Delhi, Sept. 15.—The Star's estimate that Clark would have a plurality over Trout in Delaware county in the issue of Wednesday was not far astray, the official figures compiled late this afternoon giving the plurality at 3543. The vote in the county on governor was: Miller, 3927; Thompson, 1732. Miller's plurality was 1705. The vote on United States senator was as follows: Wadsworth, 2114; Looie, 1115; Payne, 151; Wadsworth's plurality, 1699.

Delaware Republicans are naturally elated over the nomination of John D. Clarke and the handsome vote his fellow citizens in his home county gave him. It is also noted with satisfaction here that Otsego county returned a sufficient majority for Clarke to give him the nomination, Trout's majority in Broome being sufficient to give out the exceedingly handsome vote accorded Clarke here.

The only contest in the county was for the Republican nomination for county treasurer, Augustus Shaw over John J. Thomas of Delhi for that office. There was no opposition to the renomination of Foreman for county superintendent of poor nor that of Lincoln E. Long for member of assembly nor that of Thomas L. Craig of Davenport for coroner.

Below are given tables showing the vote by towns for member of congress and county treasurer:

ONEONTA CITY WATER

Letter From Superintendent Hoyt Clearly Explains Recent Situation. Editor Star—Apropos to the reference in Tuesday's Star, to the city water, an explanation of the cause of the disagreeable taste that has been troubling us may be due our patrons.

There are those who think that only Oneonta has this trouble, and also those who think the management is different to the condition. Neither is the case. It is very common in water works systems, and the management has given serious attention to the matter to the extent (when the condition did not yield to the treatment) of employing Prof. J. M. Caird, a specialist of many years' standing in water analysis and an expert in water filtration, and who visits nearly every state in the union in that capacity, to help us out; and he has been with us for the past week.

The trouble is caused by a vegetable growth which comes under the head of "algae," of which there are hundreds of different species. Some are viable to the eye, but the most troublesome to water works are only to be seen by aid of the microscope. The species which gave the late unpleasantness differed from any that we have heretofore had to deal with, hence the difficulty in combating it. This growth itself is practically all taken out by the filtration plant, but a taste once introduced cannot at once be eliminated.

Regarding the safety of the water, I will only say that an analysis and bacterial count taken at any time will show the same results as those found for Mr. Nye. Perfectly safe and far better than most cities.

In conclusion I wish to state that the investigation made for Mr. Nye and his satisfactory outcome were unknown to the company until after reading the notice in The Star. That the same conclusions should have been reached by our own expert and by those of the Fleischmanns company is naturally gratifying as the results of independent investigations.

DIG AFTER VINES ARE DEAD.

Tubers Best Left in Ground Until Plants With.

Late blight has appeared in potato fields throughout the greater part of the state and some growers, being concerned lest the tubers rot, are planning to dig them as soon as possible. To dig the potatoes early only increases the chances of their becoming infected and later decay, according to the state college at Ithaca. There is less likelihood of infection if the tubers are left in the ground until all the vines are dead.

The reason for this is that the blighting vines while yet green contain the living spores of the parasitic fungus that causes the tuber rot. When the vines die the spores of the fungus also die and cannot then infect the plant or tubers. If the tubers are dug while these spores are alive, the spores come into contact with the potatoes, which are likely to become infected so they will decay later. If the tubers are left in the soil, it is possible that the spores will not reach them unless a heavy rain occurs.

When potatoes are dug after the vines are dead, allowed to dry in the ground and the unrotted ones put in a cool, dry storage house, the blight rot will not be troublesome. The blight parasite does not grow at a temperature below 40 degrees F.

FRANCES STARR OPENS SEASON

Play at Belasco Theatre Reminds of "Case of Becky."

Frances Starr, the noted actress, born in Schenectady this county, opened her season in Edward Knobloch's play, "One," Tuesday night at the Belasco theatre, New York. She plays a dual role in this play, which transmutates immateriality into terms of the real through the medium of the theatre. Miss Starr, who delved into the psychic once before on the stage in "The Case of Becky," has plenty of opportunity in "One" to display her talent in depicting the supernatural.

The piece concerns twin sisters and the complications which arise from their possession of a single soul. In support of Miss Starr in her new venture into double personality are Randall Desborough, Arthur Philip Desborough and Martin Lewis, three English actors brought to New York for the production; Theodore Babcock and Miss Daisy Belmont.

Real Trout for Otsego Streams.

Eighteen cans containing altogether 1,500 fingerling brook trout from the Caladonia hatchery passed through Oneonta yesterday morning, consigned to Cooperstown and Hartwick for planting in the streams thereabouts. The fish were from 4 to 10 inches long and while they should not be caught next season, will be the real thing for anglers in the spring of 1922.

When you have tried Otsego coffee the word "delicious" will have a new significance. And until you have tried it you will probably never know what good coffee should taste like. 12

COUNTY COURT ADJOURNS.

Owing to Critical Illness of Father-in-Law of Judge Welch.

The September term of county court, which had been adjourned to yesterday morning, opened at 9 a. m. at Cooperstown, and on account of the critical illness of Truman Bootman of Edmeston, father-in-law of Judge Welch, further adjournment was taken, the jury being discharged until September 27. All the cases on the calendar were put over save one, and in this, a civil action, there is prospect of settlement.

Mr. Bootman has for many years been a leading business man and banker of Edmeston. He is well known in that portion of the county, and with regret for his illness will be joined the hope for his speedy recovery.

Corrected Vision Brings Better Results

It very often happens that a child's distaste for study is due to inability to see clearly and without eyestrain; but the child is usually unconscious of the reason for this dislike, never having known any different condition, so the defect is not discovered. YOU must be the one to investigate.

Many parents do not have their children's eyes examined for fear that glasses will be prescribed which really needed or not. To such we say that the wearing of glasses at an early age when needed frequently strengthens the muscles of the eyes and makes it unnecessary to wear them later; whereas, if avoided, small eye defects may develop into permanent injuries. Not only that, but strained eye muscles, if not relieved, often cause squinting, wrinkles and facial contortions, besides serious nervous complications.

PUBLIC MARKET SATURDAY

PRODUCERS AND CONSUMERS ALIKE URGED TO GIVE PROJECT HEARTY SUPPORT

Will Be Located at the Dewar Lot Adjacent to Dewar & Wright Building on Broad Street—Hours Announced for First Day 8 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Chairman Clark announces that the Public Market for this city, which has been under consideration for some time and which the council recently decided to give a trial, will open for the first day on Saturday, September 18, and the hours will be from 8 to 1 o'clock on this opening day. It will be located on the Dewar lot on Broad street, adjacent to the building of Dewar & Wright.

The project is one designed for the common service of both producer and consumer in an earnest effort to get them together, so that those having things to sell can get in contact with those desiring to purchase and with the least possible delay and difficulty. It is the hope of the promoters of the idea that all growers in this section will unite in an effort to have a good supply of produce of all kinds arranged in an attractive manner and well qualified to appeal to the housewives and others who may come to the market to supply the family larder. There will be no charge of any kind and those signifying an intention to appear on regular days will be given a permanent location so that a satisfied customer may be able to locate him or her.

In order to make the undertaking a success also, it will be necessary for those who have purchases to make to visit the Market and buy there any articles of which they have need, provided always that they can be found at the Market and provided also that they are offered at a fair price. If the buying public does not accord support the project is doomed to failure at the outset.

All kinds of produce grown hereabouts and which residents of the city might desire for the home should be brought. Those who have been complaining that fall apples are rotting because no market could be found should visit the Market and ascertain if these very articles are not being offered to the public at this time.

The opportunity is being provided for the mutual assistance of both the growers and those who have to buy, and unless it is given support by both classes until it is fairly tried, then those who remain away will be largely responsible for the failure. They have been successful elsewhere and will be here, if supported by those for whom it is planned.

SOME FAST HORSES ENTERED

SILVIA, THE CLEVER PONY TROTTER, WILL START NEXT WEEK.

Indications Are That the Races Will Surpass Any of the Vicinity Fairs—Murray to Bring His String Here—Entry List Now Closed.

Indications that the races at the Oneonta fair next week will be the best in the history of the fair continue to multiply. While the entries closed Tuesday, the management cannot publish the list as it is compelled to accept all postmarked prior to noon of yesterday and they will not be announced until today.

Those witnessing the races last year will remember Silvia, Mr. Brink's clever pony trotter with a record of 2:15, and will be glad to know that she is entered for the races again this year and will start on Thursday and possibly again on Friday. This sterling little mare weighs but 700 pounds, but every pound counts when she is on the race track. She has been a money winner since she was a two-year-old. She won the 2:15 trot last year. She will have pitted against her some of the best trotters racing at the fairs in Central New York this season and will have to go to win.

Among the horses that are expected to start against her are Bob, the Great, one of the greatest racing horses known to the fraternity. He raced through Ohio last season and is participating in the races at the State fair at Syracuse this week. He is now owned by F. D. Wilcox of Deposit and is one of the best winners owned in all this section.

Billy Dodge, also a winner and in the 2:29 trot at the Oneonta fair last year and known as the freak trotter, will start in the 2:15 trot. Robert Ormont is also included among the horses that will be seen at the races here.

J. S. Murray of Goshen, the famous grand circuit driver and at one time driver of the Brook Farm stable of Chester, owned by Richard K. DeLaford, president of the Park Row National bank of New York city, will bring his string here and it will include Junior Hall, the horse which has won first money six times and second money once in 17 days and in the first seven races in which he was entered. This is the season's record and it is believed the world's record for the best winnings in the least number of days. Mr. Murray is also owner of Directum, 1:56 1/2, the world's champion harness horse and holder of the world's record. He said at one time for $25,000.

These are in addition to the stable of S. G. Camp, which includes Bellingham and Gentry Miss and the two horses of Dr. W. H. Wheeler of Stamford. The full list of entries will appear in an early issue.

CLARKE APPARENTLY WINS

DELAWARE COUNTY MAN ACCORDED REPUBLICAN NOMINATION FOR CONGRESS

Carries Home County by 5542 Plurality and Otsego by 806, While Tritt Wins Plurality in Broome of 4973 and 51 in Chenango.

Based upon official returns in Otsego and Delaware counties and upon unofficial figures in Broome and Chenango counties, which latter will not be changed materially by the official count, John D. Clarke of Delaware, has been nominated for representative in congress by the Republicans of this district by a plurality of 235. While the supporters of Frank H. Tritt of Binghamton are unwilling to concede the nomination of Mr. Clarke until the final figures are certified to the proper official, there is little doubt that Mr. Clarke has won after a hot three-cornered fight.

The official figures as announced by R. Hume Grant at Delhi late yesterday for Delaware county gives Clarke a plurality over Tritt of 5542. The official returns received at Cooperstown yesterday by Clerk Hintermeister of the board of election commissioners shows that Clarke has a plurality over Tritt in Otsego of 806 which gives Clarke a combined plurality in the two counties of 4349.

Mr. Tritt's plurality in Broome county with one small district in the rural part of the county missing at a late hour yesterday was 4973 and unofficial figures from Chenango county show that Tritt has a plurality in that county over Clarke, of 51 which gives him a plurality in two counties of 4124, leaving a net plurality for Clarke of 225.

The figures would indicate that Clarke received a larger percentage of the enrolled Republican vote in Delaware county than did Tritt in his home county and the big vote polled in Delaware county combined with the Clarke strength in the county of Otsego decides the contest, which has been a hot three-cornered one, in favor of Clarke.

AVIATOR BENNETT COMING

Announces That He Will Come to Oneonta to Carry Passengers After the Close of the Afton Fair—“Brownie,” D. D. Given Sensational Ride.

Aviator Jos. S. Bennett of Sidney, who is now located at Afton during the fair which is on this week, giving the visitors a chance to aerial rides announces that he plans to come to Oneonta after the fair at Afton closes and give residents of this section an opportunity to enjoy the delights of flights. He has made no definite arrangements for grounds so far as can be learned but he believes that a suitable location can be found and that he will be ready for operations early next week and will doubtless remain during the Oneonta fair.

Yesterday at Afton he gave D. D. Brown, best known to base ball fans and others as “Brownie” the ride of his life, giving him the full degree and kept him in the air for 45 minutes, giving what he calls his “sight seeing trip.”

Bennett found Brownie an enthusiastic, with better nerves than some “land lubbers” and he did all the stunts so popular with the trained aviators. After getting him at sufficient altitude Bennett did the tail spin six times, the first one being sufficient to cause Brownie to recall of the times when he has struck out with three on and other events in his life. The later ones were more enjoyed and the passenger was laughing at the experience. Bennett also looped the loop four times for the amusement of his interested companion and also did the nose dive three times which made the passenger think that the elevator had dropped and that the first stop would be the ground. “Brownie” declares it beats making Stamford in 30 minutes in one of “Duffer” Weidman's cars with half of the ball team in making the latter seem more like a trip on the Schoharie railroad.

Other Oneontans on the Afton grounds were interested spectators but so far as could be learned all were inclined to take the sensations of the trip, second hand.

Bennett will doubtless soon have a definite announcement to make relative to his location and the prices of flights over this city during fair week.

That Little Matter Of Style

Makes all the difference.

Many a woman never wears a suit out. Style changes and the suit is discarded, or worn only when appearance counts for little.

With style a matter of so much importance, it behooves one to choose with double care. The makers of our ready-to-wear garments know style from A to Z. In addition, they put into them the best materials—materials that guarantee the utmost service.

The price? Our prices are surprisingly reasonable.

GEORGE C. WHITNEY DEAD

Well-Known Resident, Long Engaged in Mercantile Business, Expires Quite Suddenly Wednesday Morning of Heart Disease—Funeral Not Announced.

Oneonta, Sept. 15. — George Gordon Whitney, long one of the prominent residents of this village and for years engaged in the mercantile business here, but more recently employed at the Milford National bank, of which he was a director, died quite suddenly at his home this morning of heart disease. Mr. Whitney had been feeling poorly for about two weeks and had not been at the bank, but had been about the village. He visited the business section on Tuesday and seemed no worse at least. He arose this morning and ate breakfast and was about to leave for the post office to mail some letters when he was suddenly stricken with heart failure and passed away before medical aid could reach him.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Whitney caused universal expressions of regret and sorrow, as he was known and esteemed by all residents of this village, and in addition had a wide circle of friends about the country. The funeral arrangements are not announced, awaiting the arrival of his daughter.

Mr. Whitney was born at Adams, Mass., Dec. 5, 1852, and was united in marriage with Miss Matilda Yates of Morris, June 12, 1883. For several years he was engaged in business in Morris with the late J. P. Kenyon. In 1886 he came to this village and established a mercantile business here under the firm name of Kenyon & Whitney, his former partner at Morris being interested in the business. He continued the business until 11 years ago, when he disposed of it and retired. Most of the time since he has been engaged at the Milford National bank, of which he was one of the founders and a director. He was a good citizen and enjoyed the respect of all. He was a member of the Milford lodge of Odd Fellows.

He is survived by Mrs. Whitney and by three daughters, Mrs. Nellis B. Bronner of Little Falls, Miss Josephine Whitney of Brooklyn, and Mrs. Paul B. Schreiber of Port Washington, L. I. Friends are kindly requested to omit flowers at the funeral.

MILFORD BOY MARRIED

Harold P. Oakley Weds Fannie Spurr To Live at New Berlin

Milford, Sept. 15. — St. Andrew's church at New Berlin was the scene of an impressive wedding ceremony on Wednesday afternoon, September 8, when Miss Fannie C. Spurr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Spurr of that village was united in marriage by Rev. J. F. Kerr to Harold P. Oakley of New Berlin but formerly of Milford. The church was gaily trimmed for the occasion with golden red, hydrangeas and white asters.

At 1 o'clock the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Charles V. Medbury, filled the church with melody and the bride's party marched up the aisle to meet the groom and best man at the chancel.

The bridesmaid was Miss Alice Spurr, a cousin of the bride, and the groom's best man was John Spurr, a brother of the bride. The bride was attired in a blue georgette dress, accented with white and wore a picture hat of black velvet. She carried a bouquet of white, pink and red roses.

Following the ceremony the happy couple left for Oneonta and from there to Arnold's Lake, near Milford, for a week's camping trip. On their return they will occupy part of the Floyd Spurr house on North street New Berlin.

Mrs. Oakley, a life long resident of New Berlin is a young lady who is greatly respected by all. For three years she was employed in the post office, where her pleasing and cheerful personality made for her a host of friends. Since April she has been employed in the office of the Nestle Food company, which position she has ably filled.

Mr. Oakley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Oakley of Milford, while a resident of New Berlin only a short time has gained many friends by his courteous and pleasing manner. He is a graduate of Buchnell college and for the past eight months has been employed in the office of the Nestle Food Company as bookkeeper.

WARSAW RIVALS FRENCH CAPITAL

Vivacity and Gayety Is Constant Reminder of Paris.

HAS SEEN GRIM TRAGEDIES

City in Pre-war Times Vied With World Capitals in Science, Particularly Medicine, in Manufacturing, in Trade and in Literature—Every Effort of Poles at Nationalization
Has Been Followed by Slaughter.

"No other people, in all the world's history, has borne oppression so bravely and gloriously as the Poles, except the Jews; and Warsaw, where the Russians had to keep a garrison of 200,000 troops to overawe a city of 800,000 people," is to Poland what Paris is to France," says a bulletin of the National Geographic society
concerning the present focal center
of world attention.

"Indeed, the vivacity, the gayety,
and the quick wit of Warsaw's people is a constant reminder of Paris;
as well as those deeper likenesses
which spring from Warsaw's ascendancy in the letters, the arts, and the social graces.

"All this, too, in a city where the most gruesome tragedies have stalked. As recently as the years of our own Civil war the Russian army mowed down thousands of men and women as they knelt in the snow singing their national anthem. Deportations are an old story in Warsaw; every effort at nationalization
was followed by slaughter, and hundreds marched the long trail to Stberian exile.

Pinned by Bayonets.
"But Poland's spirit, meanwhile, became a synonym for the indomitable.
The success of the Russification of Poland has been described as the process of keeping 12,000,000 Poles planned to Russia by bayonets. Politically non-existent, for even Poland's name was expurgated from all official Russian records, the pre-war Warsaw vied with world capitals in science, particularly medicine, in manufacturing, in trade, and in literature.

"Though Warsaw betrayed none of the grimness characteristic of Russian cities, reminders of her bygone glories and tragedies were to be found even before the World war restored her autonomy.

"In the Lazienki Gardens is a monument to John Sobieski, who stemmed
the advance of the Turks in Europe,
a figure as picturesque as Paderewski, who now sees his land a barrier to bolshevism's westward spread. It was in 1683 that a Turkish force had thrown itself into crescent formation around Vienna. The encampment was no less threatening because it resembled a circus rather than a siege, with its herds of camels, and luxurious tents with baths and porraits within and fountains without.

"Mighty events often hinge on slender circumstances. Sobieski hesitated because Leopold, Austria's emperor, first declined to address him as 'His Majesty.' But Sobieski's hesitation is said to have vanished when he learned that the French ambassador had written to Louis XIV, who rather hoped for the worst for Austria, 'Don't trouble yourself. Sobieski is too fat to sit on a horse and fight.' The 'fat man' rode his charger into the thick of the fight, helping how his way to where the Turkish grand vizier stood, and after the battle handed one of that dignitary's stirrups to an aide, with the command, 'Take it to the queen and tell her that he to whom it belonged is defeated and slain.'

Origin of Vienna Roll.
"The sublime often is strangely
blended with the inconsequential.
They will tell you this story, with much detail, in Warsaw; while the Vienna visitor fervently was sure to hear about a little coffee house on the Graham that was kept by a descendant of a brave Polish boy who crawled through the Turkish lines to Sobieski's headquarters an urgent call for his city's succor. He was rewarded with permission to open the first coffee house in Vienna, and there originated, in jest at the defeated enemy's formation, the crescent shaped bun, known around the world
as the Vienna roll.

"Of such deeds of heroism, picturesque anecdote, and frequent calandrit, is Poland's history composed.

"Other cities have lost their political importance, and held their heads high because of a proud past,
but Warsaw, persecuted as it was,
has a highly important economic present. In normal times it was the geographical center of Europe, the focal point for rail shipments from Russia and Asia to western Europe even though the actual western terminals
on the Vistula gave it a place on Europe's inland waterways comparable to that of St. Louis on the Mississippi. Its output of shoes, metal articles, and cotton makes its product sound like that of a busy New England city, and its long commercial arm even reached out to drop half a million dollars' worth of beet sugar
into America in those different days before 1914.

"Numerous castles of the old Polish nobility were converted into municipal offices by the Russians. Warsaw takes pride in its theaters, that for the Polish drama and ballet being an especially beautiful building with two theaters under one roof."

CANARY'S FUNERAL COST $200

Five Mourners' Coaches and Band Follow Body of Little Songster at Newark, N. J.

Newark, N. J.—The scriptural assurance that sparrows shall not fall unnoticed was given tangible application to a pet canary bird.

Jimmie, the little songster, choked to death on a watermelon seed, and so grief stricken was his owner, Emilio Mussomanno, a sixty-five-year-old cobbler, that friends contributed $200 for a funeral, including a hearse, five mourners' coaches and a 15-piece band.

"He sang, ah, so sweet, like Caruso," sobbed the cobbler as the little plush-lined casket, six by twelve inches, was lowered into the grave. He plans to erect a monument later.

TO GIVE RURAL HELP

Program for Public Health and Community Welfare Is Now Well Under Way.

Rural communities and towns of less than 8,000 population benefit in a very large part by the public health and community welfare work of the American Red Cross. Almost all of the 3,000 Red Cross chapters have some rural sections in their territory. Therefore the Red Cross Rural Service.

Briefly, the purpose of Rural Service is to assist people to get out of life more health, wealth and happiness. In this purpose public health instruction and general educational progress of both children and adults play a big part.

Recreation is found to be one of the biggest needs in rural life. There is lack of sufficient play-life for the children and social life for the adults. Parties, pageants, debating clubs, baseball leagues, community singing and other social events which bring the people of surrounding communities together have been organized and carried on under the guidance of Red Cross rural workers to great advantage. In many instances solving recreational problems and getting people together proves to be the awakening of the community to other conditions which may be improved by united action.

As a result of community organization, townships in which there had been neither plans nor interest in community progress have been organized to work together with the unified purpose of bringing their community up to the most enlightened standards. Lecture and musical entertainment courses have been started as a result of community meetings, as well as circulating libraries, Red Cross schools of instruction in Home Nursing, Care of the Sick and First Aid. In the larger towns the need for restrooms and public comfort stations is being met. Playgrounds for the children have been established and recreational activities worked out for the year.

In order that there may be concerted effort in carrying on the programs of the various welfare agencies in the rural districts, Red Cross Rural Service helps the organizations already on the ground. The main object of the service is to lend a hand everywhere and take the lead only where necessary.

HUNTING FROM AN AUTOMOBILE

Thrilling Description of Unique Sport in the Moroccan Desert.

FOUR GAZELLES ARE BAGGED

Fast Driving Over Stony Plain to Get Within Range—Great Skill on the Part of Chauffeurs Necessary to Handle Cars.

London.—The Morocco correspondent of the Times sends a thrilling description of hunting gazelles by automobile. He writes:

There are four of us. Hadji Thami Glavis, the Busha of Marrakesh; Kaid Hammou of the Atlas, Sid Ayadi, Kaid of Rahama, and your correspondent.

It is time to start. There is a car for each of us four sportsmen, and at the invitation of my hosts I take my seat beside the chauffeur, with two beautifully dressed black slaves in the back seat in attendance. The kaid enters their cars and we set out.

The cultivated lands are quickly left behind and the great plain of Rahama lies stretching away before us with the snow peaks of the Atlas bounding its southern horizon.

Kaid Ayadi gives the signal and the four cars spread out—a few hundred yards apart—and proceed at a slower pace, about fifteen miles an hour. The ground is stone-strewn and rough, and careful steering is necessary. There are boulders of every shape and size loosely strewn over the plain, and little channels worn by water, insignificant enough in themselves, but highly damaging to motorists if not skillfully maneuvered. Our chauffeurs, three Frenchmen and an Algerian, are skillful drivers and accustomed to this sport of the "Great Kaid."

Sighting the Game. Suddenly one of the slaves in my car cries out and away ahead of me I see a herd of gazelle bounding over the plain. My car is on the extreme left of the line and our object is to head off the herd from the more stony ground and turn them to the right, where the plain is more level. Edging away always to the left our car quickens its pace, rolling from side to side and bumping. Seizing every opportunity of a few yards of good ground, we spur forward, only to have to slow down again to manipulate some awkward sport. The gazelle are out of range, for it is only with a shotgun loaded with solid bullet or buckshot that they can be got. To shoot with a rifle out of a car going at from forty to fifty miles an hour over rough ground is too much to ask or expect. There are less stones now and we are making headway.

The three cars on my right keep a little in the rear, in order to facilitate my turning movement, but they too are making good pace. At times, for a few minutes, we are traveling at over forty miles an hour, and once or twice the gazelle are almost within range; then some little watercourse or some extra stony patch gives them their chance and they increase the distance again. At length our course seems clear and the car bounds forward. The pace is splendid but rather terrifying. Half standing, half kneeling on the seat, I wait to get my chance of a shot, then suddenly the car swerves in a way that nearly throws me out—and stops. A yard or two ahead is a dry watercourse, a meter wide perhaps, and half a meter deep and full of boulders an impassable barrier—or rather a barrier the passing of which necessitates a search for a practical passage, and allows the escape of the gazelle, whose course toward the stony ground is now easy. A few minutes later we see them appear on the outline of a low hill, bounding over the rocks.

It was not long before fresh herds were put up, but always breaking away to the left they succeeded in reaching the low stony slopes that form the northern boundary of the Rahama plain. At a signal from Kaid Ayadi we turn southward to seek more advantageous ground, and emerging from the stony area our cars roll across the level plain at a pace of 30 miles an hour. Game, however, is scarcer here—though a great bustard falls to my gun, brought down by a charge of buckshot. At length, however, a herd of a dozen gazelle is spied in the open, and at an increased speed the cars rush forward. The speedometer of my car marks 40 miles an hour, but we are not gaining on the gazelle, who appear easily to keep their distance of four or five hundred yards ahead of us. At another signal we increase the pace to 50 miles an hour. The plain is level, but there are stones and little undulations and many small watercourses, merely little difficulties in the surface, but none the less enough to pass over, and the exhilaration is intense.

Four Killed, One Taken Alive.

It is wonderful driving on the part of the chauffeurs, and the cars sway from side to side, and rise and fall, like boats in a rough sea. We are closing upon the herd now, and it looks as though it will be my car that will be the first to come up with them, but suddenly they turn aside to the right, and pass down the line of advancing cars.

The Busha of Marrakesh's like figure is clearly visible as he stands in his swaying car. The gazelle pass him, and with right and left he brings down two beautiful stags. Kaid Hammou's car is the next, and he, too, shoots his two gazelle. Once more the herd swerves, and passing between the cars, breaks back to the rear and is allowed to escape without further molestation—all but one, a young doe, who paralyzed with fear, stands motionless, and is easily captured alive and unhurt, to be carefully conveyed back to Marrakesh to become a pet in the kaid's house.

It may be argued that this class of hunting is not sport, that the gazelle have no chance of escape, but it is not so. The risk is great, an accident may occur at any moment, and the stony surface of the ground gives the gazelle a good chance. Of the many herds we saw the four gazelle shot and the one taken alive were our whole bag, though we covered 100 miles of distance on the plain alone, without counting our ride to and from Marrakesh. The handling of the cars requires the greatest skill, and the shooting is by no means easy. To hit a running gazelle from a motor car traveling at the rate of 50 miles an hour over rough ground needs no little skill.

1920 COAL EXPORTS 'WAY UP

Bituminous Shipments 5,000,000 Tons Over Those of 1919, Says Latest Figures.

Washington.—Exports of bituminous coal from the United States during the fiscal year just ended exceeded by more than 5,000,000 tons bituminous shipments during 1919, according to preliminary trade figures issued by the department of commerce.

During the fiscal year 1920 there were 22,916,325 tons of bituminous coal, worth $152,299,978 exported, compared with 18,152,337 tons, valued at $75,826,696 a year ago.

In addition bunker coal laden on vessels engaged in foreign trade in 1920, amounted to 836,453 tons at $7,233,478.

Canada took nearly half of the bituminous coal exports of 1920, receiving 12,470,516 tons. Italy, with a total of 2,862,773 tons, stood next as an export market for American coal, and Cuba, with a total of 1,243,093 tons, was third.

Democratic National Convention Rule.

The two-thirds rule was established by the Democratic national convention in Baltimore in 1852 that nominated Andrew Jackson for a second term. His running mate was Martin Van Buren of New York. The rule has been famous and inflexible ever since, though efforts have been made to destroy it. Republicans operate under a majority rule. In the Baltimore convention Jackson was nominated on the ninth ballot. His running mate four years before had been John C. Calhoun of South Carolina.

Two Matadors Horned.

Barcelona.—Matador Correa, who had previously been wounded while fighting a bull, struck a bone with his sword and fell on the animal's horns. He was tossed and received a deep wound. Matador Arequipeno also was horned severely.

Won Race With Playful
Dog Carrying Dynamite

Peter O'Brien, a turtle hunter of Lancaster, O., won a half-mile dash in record time, in a speed burst with Pedro, his dog, in whose mouth was a stick of dynamite, with the fuse burning.

When Peter applied a match to a stick of dynamite and threw it into a creek, Pedro thought his master was playing with him and jumped into the water and caught the sputtering stick in his mouth.

When he began to swim back toward Peter, the latter began a marathon home, half a mile away. Pedro ran fast, but Peter ran faster, and just as he entered his house there was a terrific explosion. Now a ten-foot hole in the road marks the place where Pedro once ran.

Real Neighborliness.

An interesting experiment in neighborliness has been carried on for nearly a year in a part of Toledo which is populated almost exclusively by Polish immigrants and their descendants. The Polish Business Men's club of the district conceived the idea that the needy Polish families in the community should be taken care of in a neighborhood way, rather than by charity organizations. The latter were requested not to extend aid in the district, but to notify the club, so that it might meet all emergencies. This is not done from the club treasury, however. An investigation is made to determine whether the need is for money, supplies or work, and the other residents of the block, including the tradesmen, are then informed that their neighbors need their assistance, which, the club reports, is always forthcoming.

Thousands of Women

Owe Their Health To

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine. Compared with it, all other medicines for women's ills seem to be experiments.

Why is it so successful? Simply because of its sterling worth. For over forty years it has had no equal. Women for two generations have depended upon it with confidence.

Thousands of Their Letters are on our files, which prove these statements to be facts, not mere boasting.

Here Are Two Sample Letters:

Mother and Daughter Helped.

Middleburg, Pa.—"I am glad to state that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did me much good when I was 35 years old. I was run down with female trouble and was not able to do anything, could not walk for a year and could not work. I had treatment from a physician but did not gain. I read in the papers and books about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it. The first few bottles gave me relief and I kept on using it until I got better and was able to do my work. The Vegetable Compound also regulated my daughter when she was 15 years old. I can recommend Vegetable Compound as the best medicine I have ever used."—Mrs. W. YERGEN, R. 3, Box 21, Middleburg, Pa.

Fall River, Mass.—"Three years ago I gave birth to a little girl and after she was born I did not pick up well. I doctored for two months and my condition remained the same. One day one of your little books was left at my door and my husband suggested that I try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I started it immediately and I felt better and could eat better after the first bottle, and I continued taking it for some time. Last year I gave birth to a baby boy and had a much easier time as I took the Vegetable Compound for four months before baby came. On getting up I had no pains like I had before, and no dizziness, and in two weeks felt about as well as ever."—Mrs. THOMAS WILKINSON, 363 Columbia Street, Fall River, Mass.

Perspiration stains rot your silk stockings

After every wearing toss them into these cleansing suds

How often you have been annoyed at the stains that perspiration left on a delicately colored silk stocking! They were so unsightly! Worse than that, they are harmful! The chemical action of perspiration rots the fine silk fibres. Your expensive stockings are actually being eaten up!

But you can save them! After every wearing, dip them in a bowl of foamy Lux suds. Don't let them wait, even over night. The pure Lux suds will freshen them in a minute, cleanse away every trace of perspiration and dust. It means twice the life for your silk stockings!

Get Lux today from your grocer, druggist or department store. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

There's nothing like Lux for silk stockings

A FEW HELPS FOR SILK STOCKINGS

Never wring silk stockings. Wringing injures the fibre. Just squeeze the water out gently.

Always use a warm iron, never a hot one. Heat injures silk fibre and yellows white and delicate colors.

Spread soaked stockings on a towel, and roll immediately to dry. Iron while still damp. This will prevent the socks from running.

Moving to Oneonta.

Parker W. Knapp and family are about to move from Lewisa, town of Franklin, to this city. Mr. Knapp has purchased a two-family house here. Mr. Knapp, who has occupied the Knapp homestead, formerly owned by his father, the late Haywood Knapp, has conducted a large dairy farm very successfully. He has for several years been one of the assessors of the town of Franklin. His brother, Fred W. Knapp, moved to this city a couple of years ago and purchased a home on Elm street. The homestead farm in Franklin is now occupied, under lease, by Parker Knapp's son-in-law, Fred W. Dean.

PESKY BED BUGS

Bedbugs lay an average of seven eggs per day. Under favorable conditions they hatch in five days of which two-thirds are females. They mature to adult size and are capable of laying in four weeks. How many bedbugs would you have in a year if you left one female or six unmolested for one year? To rid the pesky bedbug, you can readily see how necessary it is to use a preparation that will kill the eggs as well as the live ones. P. D. Q.
has been demonstrated by the leading Hospitals, Hotels and Railroad Companies that the safest and most eco-

EX-SERVICE MEN CELEBRATE

Captain Johnson Chosen Legion Delegate—27th Division Reunion.
Former soldiers and sailors have been having a "regular" time during the past week. The 27th division reunion has been held for the first time in the city. It is of interest to know that at one time the state convention of the American Legion, a "regional" man was honored by being chosen a delegate.
City, Sept. 15—Sheldon H. Close returned early this week from the state convention at Albany, where he represented the local post, American Legion, with the 1919 state Captain Royal C.
Johnson, president of the Oneonta legion, had been chosen a delegate to the national meeting of the legion, which will be held next month in Cleveland. A. Binghamton man, Charles G. Blakeslee, was elected state commander of the legion at the same session. The convention extended over two days and was greatly enjoyed by all former service men, and more firmly cemented the ties that hold the legion together.
Many delegates who attended this convention went on from Albany to Saratoga to be present at the reunion of the 27th division. More than 3,000 veterans of "New York's own" marched in the parade there on Monday and the two days were spent in business and social ways by the former buddies,
who got together for the first time since they were demobilized. A 27th Division association was formed and Major General John F. O'Ryan chosen its president.
Former 27th division men from Oneonta who attended the reunion
and speak highly of the good time
they had, included Major George W.
Augustin, Captain Royal C. Johnson,
and privates Ralph Cole and Flowers.
All the men look forward to the next reunion, which will be held three years hence.

DELAYED BY WET WEATHER.

showers, Little Sunshine and Cool Temperature Hinder the Harvest.
The weather of the week was marked by frequent showers, deficient sunshine and moderate temperature, according to the summary of weather,
and crop conditions in New York state for the week ending Sept. 14, sent out from the Ithaca office of the weather bureau.
Corn continued to make good growth, and silo filling has commenced. Many are delaying, however, in order to secure a larger yield. The weather was favorable for duckweed pastures and meadows, which are reported in good to excellent condition.
While some oats are still in shock, a great proportion of the crop is underfoot; much has been threshed, and the yield generally heavy.
Weather conditions were favorable
for the spread of late blight of potatoes, and dry, sunny weather is now
needed to prevent an increase of blight and resultant rot. The ripening of grapes, tomatoes, etc., was delayed
by the wet weather and lack of sunshine. Concord grapes are about a week late, but are coloring fast.

Stop Whining and Grumbling.

Did you read in yesterday's Oneonta
Star of the school teacher of long ago who bearded round and roared but $1.50 per week? It carried many old people back to swimming holes day, when skies were blue and sunmer days were long. Yes, and it made them think that Oneonta people ought to thank God that they now have a better chance than their dads and mothers had in the long ago, as with present big wages and the unselfish help of my twelve experienced, reliable and honest men, backed by Uncle Sam, I give a safe chance to make even small amounts roll up to several million dollars for homes, farms, sickness, loss of a job and the lean, weary years of old age. But the mob of today doesn't think. Hurrah for jazz music and the fox trot dance! Who won the ball game yesterday? Well, there are some sensible people who can see a hole in a ladder and are getting in with my new bunch of little fellows that I am now starting to safely roll up half a million more; so I'm going to keep on sawing wood and doing good. Say, old folks, can't you help me to make young people understand how I help them to help themselves and thus get pep into them,
so that we won't have to pass the hat
and pay larger taxes to take care of them later? It's a great work! I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. 2t

MILK TRAIN WRECKED.

Broken Wheel Cause—Serious Derailment on Uter and Delaware.
Reports of the wrecking of a milk
train on the Uter and Delaware railroad near this city last evening,
but no definite information could be obtained as to its seriousness. The train was down the Erie Hill road at about 4 p. m., a wheel on one of the milk cars broke and derailed the train, tearing up the tracks so that
that the afternoon passenger train from Oneonta had to be delayed and the passengers spent the night in the hill and vicinity. According to reports, no one was injured, but the milk train and its contents were damaged and the track repaired for a long distance.
The afternoon passenger train follows the milk train to Kingston and when the latter was wrecked, it was partly held up, and as there were no prospects of transferring passengers, the train was held up. The mail train from Kingston reached Oneonta all right at 10 p. m., it having past the scene of the wreck before the accident.

Sandwiches---

The housewife who masters the art of the sandwich has the key to good health and good appetite for her family. For the children's lunch-box, sandwiches. For the unexpected guest, the Sunday night spread, the after-theatre bite—again sandwiches! For nourishment, eric-ment and convenience, at any time and all times, sandwiches!

Here is sandwich-wisdom for the woman who wants a short-cut to perfect sandwiching:

1. Use very sharp knife, cutting thin, even slices.
2. Match slices, to make neat sandwiches.
3. For hearty sandwiches leave crusts
on and butter to the edge.
4. It is more economical to bear butter to cream and spread Bread before cutting slice from loaf.
5. Cookie cutters may be used for cutting round or fancy shapes. These should be spread after they are shaped.
6. Avoid bulky fillings in making dainty smooth sandwiches.
7. Sandwiches made several hours before serving time may be kept moist by wrapping in napkins, wrap dry out of hot water. Sandwiches for picnics and luncheons to be carried should be neatly wrapped in paraffin paper.

Watch for our delicious receipts. Here's the first:
